Hoofland's Column.

YOU ALL

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia.

Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or any thing like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for

Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, stomach or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate diseases of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

is entirely vegetable and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made, are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific Chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in case where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These remedies are the best

ever known and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order, keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition by the use of these remedies, and no diseases will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything, you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system.

Yours Truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON.

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates Street.

THREE BRAVE MEN.

Pretty Barbara Ferros would not marry. Her mother was in consternation.

'Why are you stubborn, Barbara?' she asked. 'You have plenty of lovers.'

'But they do not suit,' said Barbara, coolly tying back her curls before the mirror.

'Why not?'

'I want to marry a man who is brave, equal to any emergency. If I give up my liberty, I want it taken care of!'

'Silly child! what is the matter with Big Barney, the blacksmith!'

'He is big, but I never heard that he was brave.'

'And you never heard that he was not. What is the matter with Ernest, the gun-smith?'

'He is placid as woet's milk.'

'That is no sign that he is a coward. There is little Fritz, the tanner, he is quarrelsome enough for you, surely!'

'He is no bigger than a bantam cock. It is little good he can do, if the house was set upon by robbers.'

'It is not always strength that wins a fight, girl, it takes brains as well as brawn. Come, now, Barbara, give these three young fellows a fair trial.'

Barbara turned her face before the mirror, letting down one raven tress and looping up another.

'I will, mother,' she said at last.

That evening, Ernest the gunsmith knocked at the door.

'You sent for me, Barbara?' he said, going to the girl, who stood upon the hearth coquettishly warming one pretty foot and then the other.

'Yes, Ernest,' she replied, 'I've been thinking on what you said the other night when you were here.'

'Well, Barbara?'

Ernest spoke quietly, but his dark blue eyes flashed, and he looked at her intently.

'I want to test you.'

'How?'

'I want to see if you dare to do a very disagreeable thing.'

'What is it?'

'There is an old coffin up stairs. It smells mouldy. They say Redmond the murderer was buried in it; but the devil came for his body and left the coffin empty at the end of a week; and it was finally taken from the tomb. It is up stairs in the room grandfather died in, and they say grandsire does not rest easy in his grave for some reasons, though I know nothing about it. Dare you make the coffin your bed to night?'

Ernest laughed.

'Is that all? I will do that and sleep soundly. Why pretty one did you think I had weak nerves?'

'Your nerves will have good proof if you undertake it. Remember, no one sleep, in that wing of the house.'

'I shall sleep the sounder.'

'Good night, then. I will send you a lad to show you the chamber. If you stay till morning,' said imperious Miss Barbara, with a nod of her pretty head, 'I'll marry you.'

'You vow it?'

Ernest turned straight away and followed the lad in waiting through dim rooms and passages, up echoing stairs, along narrow damp ways, where rats scuttled before to a low chamber.—The lad looked pale and scared, and evidently wanted to hurry away but Ernest made him wait till he took a survey by the aid of his lamp. It was very large and full of recesses, which had been barred across. He remembered that old grandsire Ferros had been insane several years before his death, so that this precaution had been necessary for the safety of himself and others. In the centre of the room stood a coffin, beside it was placed a chair. The room was otherwise perfectly empty.

Ernest stretched himself out in the coffin.

'Be kind enough to tell Miss Barbara it is a very good fit,' he said.

The lad went out and shut the door, leaving the young gunsmith alone in the dark.

Meanwhile, Barbara was talking with the big blacksmith in the sitting room.

'Barney,' said she pulling her hand away from his grasp, when he would have kissed her, 'I've a test to put you to before I give you any answer.—There is a corpse lying in the chamber where my grandsire died, in the untenanted wing of the house. If you dare sit with it all night and let nothing drive you away from your post you will not ask me again in vain."

'You'll give me a light and a bottle of wine and a book to read?'

'Nothing.'

'Are these all the conditions you offer me, Barbara.

'All. And if you are frightened, you need never look me in the face again.'

So Barney was conducted to his post by the lad, who had been instructed into the secret, and whose involuntary start at Ernest's placid face as he lay in the coffin, was attributed by Barney to the natural awe of a corpse. He took his seat and the boy left him in the darkness, the rats and the coffin.

Soon after, young Fritz the tanner arrived, flattered and hopeful, from the fact that Barbara had sent for him.

'Have you changed your mind, Barbara?' he asked.

'No; and I shall not until I know if you can do a really brave thing.'

'What shall it be? I swear to satisfy you, Barbara.'

'I have a proposal to make to you.—My plan requires skill as well as courage.'

'Tell me!'

'Well, in this house there is a man watching a corpse. He is sworn not to leave his post till morning. If you can make him do it, I shall be satisfied that you are as smart and as brave as I require a husband to be.'

'Why nothing is so easy! exclaimed Fritz. 'I can scare him away. Furnish me with a sheet, show me the room and go to your rest, Barbara. You shall find me at the post in the morning.'

Barbara did as required, and saw the tanner step lightly away to his task. It was then nearly twelve o'clock, and she sought her own chamber.

Barney was sitting at his vigil and so far all had been well. The night seemed very long, for he had no means of counting the time. At times a thrill went through him, for it seemed as if he could hear low suppressed breathing not far away; persuaded himself that it was the wind blowing through the crevices of the old house. Still it was very lonely and not at all cheerful.

The face in the coffin gleamed white still. The rats squeaked as if there was a famine upon them and they smelled the dead flesh. The thought made him shudder. He got up and walked about but something made a slight noise behind him, and he put his chair with his back against the wall and sat down again. He had been at work all day, and at last grew sleepy. Finally he nodded and snored.

Suddenly it seemed as if somebody touched him. He awoke with a start and saw nobody near, though in the centre of the room stood a white figure.

'Curse you get out of this!' he exclaimed in affright, using the first words that came to his tongue.

The figure held out his right arm and slowly approached him. He started to his feet. The spectre came nearer, pressing into the corner.

'The mischief take you!' cried Barney in his extremity.

Involuntary he stepped back; still the figure advanced, coming nearer and nearer as if to take him in a ghostly embrace. The hair started up on Barney's head; he grew desperate and just as the gleaming arm would have touched him, he fell on the ghost like a whirlwind, tearing the sheet, thumping, pounding, beating and kicking, more and more enraged at the resistance he met, which told the truth.

As the readers know, he was big and Fritz was little; and while he was pummelling the little fellow terribly, and Fritz was trying to get a lunge at Barney's stomach, to take the wind out of him, both kicking and plunging like horses, they were petrified by hearing a voice cry:

'Take one of your size, big Barney!'

Looking around they saw the corpse sitting up in his coffin. This was too much. They released each other and sprang for the door. They never knew how they got out; but they got home in hot haste, panting like stags.

It was Barbara herself who came and opened the door next morning.

'It's very early; one more little nap,' cried he, 'one more little nap,' turning in his coffin.

So she married him, though she sent Fritz and Barney invitations to the wedding, they did not appear. If they discovered the trick, they kept the knowledge to themselves, and never willingly faced Barbara's laughing eyes.

A "CULLUD" WITNESS.—The Baton Rouge Advocate gives the following extract from testimony of a witness examined about the participation of one Sam Bowman in a late robberry. When asked if he knew the prisoner he said:

'Oh, yes, I bought ice cream from him often.'

'What is his name?'

'That is none of my business; got somethin' else to do, 'sides follerin' people about to find out dar names.'

'How do you know that this is the same man.'

'Don't I tell you, boss, I'se bought ice cream from him lots of times. Of course he is de man. Don't I reckelect his painted wagon and his sassers, and the way he hollered ice cream. Of course he is de man.'

'What were you doing when the robbers came to Mrs. Clark's?'

'Nuffin; I was asleep.'

'How did you know that they were on the place?'

'Ain't I got ears?'

'How long did you stand out in the yard watching?'

'Till my feet got cold.'

THE NIAGARA OF THE WEST.

The Oregon Statesman gives the following description of the neighborhood of the splendid Shoshonee Falls, Idaho:

Snake river is the south fork of the Columbia, having the alternative name of Lewis river. The valley of the Snake lies along an almost direct line from the South Pass of the Rocky Mountains, and in the early days it furnished the most practicable route overland to the Pacific. In its decent over the elevated plains of Idaho, about 400 miles from whence it takes its rise in the Rocky Mountains. Snake river forms the great Shoshonee Falls. The river here runs through a narrow, rocky gorge, which widens and terminates abruptly in precipitous cliffs, the summit of which is about one hundred feet above the level of the rapids, and so steep that the traveler can descend at only one point—an old Indian trail, its numerous windings making it about a mile in length. Following this trail slowly and carefully, the tourist will in due time find himself standing upon the bank of the river on a level with the rapids and overlooking the falls. The width of the river at this point has been variously estimated; we thought it at least two hundred yards.

The rapids here form a series of cascades, ranging from thirty to sixty feet each in height, and just below them the river, in one unbroken mass, leaps two hundred and ten feet into the bottomless pit below. The course of the river at this point is almost due east and west; the contour of the falls is that of an irregular horse shoe, and their width, following the course of the water, is at least four hundred yards. Although the river is not quite as wide at this point as the Niagara river, the falls are higher and quite as beautiful. The most complete views of the falls, including the river above and below the rapids, cliffs and surrounding scenery, is obtained from Lookout Point. Lookout Point is a narrow cape of rocks projecting from the main bluff about three hundred yards lower down on the river than the fall, so narrow that two persons cannot walk abreast.

Standing upon this point, we will endeavor to name the prominent places of interest. The first object which attracts our attention is Eagle Rock, a perpendicular pillar of rock about one hundred feet in height, rising from the midst of the rapids fifty yards from the south bank of the river, and almost overhanging the main cataract. Upon the topmost peak of this rock an American eagle has built his eyrie, a fitting home for our national bird—long may he live to occupy his unique and romantic abode! Just above and about the centre of the cataract is Ballard Island, a small rocky island covered with cedar and juniper trees. Several smaller islands to the right and left of the large one, or Ballard Island add to the beauty and picturesqueness of the scene.

The Two Sentinels—two huge rocky pillars—one on the north, the other on the south side, overlooking the falls, and reminding one of grim sentinels guarding their object. Lower down the river, and from a higher standpoint, one can obtain a fine panoramic view of the whole—the falls, the foaming rapids, Eagle Rock, the Two Sentinels, the huge pillars of perpetual spray arising from the bottom and near the centre of the cataract, but extending as it rises to either side, and made beautiful by the many-colored rainbows which shed a halo of glory upon the whole scene. Still lower down the river is Prospect Gulch. Several gentlemen of the party, actuated by the spirit of adventure, determined to attempt through the gulch to reach the river below the falls. They lowered themselves fifty feet on the rope down the perpendicular sides of a rocky cliff. Reaching firm ground, they managed with but little difficulty to scramble down about five hundred feet to the banks of the river. Arriving there they found that their troubles had just begun; they were six hundred yards from the falls, to reach which their path lay around and over some huge boulders of slippery rock, winding along the foot of the steep banks, and then through the foaming and boiling waters, the heavy swells of which reminded them strikingly of the breakers on the sea-shore. Finally they reached a point about thirty feet from the falls. Their journey here came to an abrubt termination by the shelving of the rocks into deep water. The wind struck this point with such violence that they feared to trust themselves in an erect posture. On their knees, they held with their hands to the overhanging brush to prevent being blown into the river.

We think that one cannot fully comprehend the immensity of the sheet of water and the sublimity of the scene, until he can gaze upward as we did. This point is the cave of the Winds. The Shoshonee Falls, as a whole, will compare favorably with Niagara. Those of our party who have seen both places pronounce the former superior in many respects. In beauty and mildness of scenery, the Shoshonee cannot be surpassed. Niagara excels in magnitude only.

'How are you John? I'm deuced glad to see you.' 'Very well, Charlie. Come and take a drink, old fellow.—'Taint often we meet.' 'That's a fact, John, and when we do, it's meet and drink.'

Secretary McCullough says that under no circumstances would he remain in office after the 4th of March, and that his only desire is to hand over the department to his successor in the best possible condition.

KILLING A DESPERADO.

The Los Angelos (Cal.) News of October 6th, states that one Alvitre, residing near the old mission, belonged to a gang of horse thieves, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Alvitre told the officers or sent word to them, that they might all come, for they could not take him alive. Five went after him, and arrived at his house about five A. M. just before daylight, and before they had any time to make any preparation, he opened the door and commenced shooting, and fired four shots before the officers fired. The officers were armed with one of Henry's repeating rifles and six shooters, while Alvitre had a Spencer rifle and three six-shooters. The firing then became general, Alvitre retiring about forty-three yards from the house. Here he hid behind a sycamore tree, and remained but a moment, but sufficient time to receive a wound which evidently made him sick, and then he returned toward the house, he firing at the time all the shots he had—some fifteen or sixteen shots. About half way to the house he received a mortal wound. During the whole time of the combat not one word was uttered by any one. The firing took place when it was too dark to draw a sight, and the firing was all range shots, but were remarkably close on the part of Alvitre. Duarte received a shot through the coat sleeve and one of Alvitre's shots killed a horse. The Alvitre family bears a notorious character, the father, Chandes Alvitre, having killed his wife some ten years ago—and two of the sons assisting in hanging the father with a riata; one of the sons was hung for killing an American on the other side of the Monte, one in the Penitentiary, and the other an escaped convict.

THE ORIGINATOR OF MORMONISM.

A Vermont correspondent of the New York Evening Post claims for Middletown, in that State, the infamy of having originated Mormonism. Or rather claims for one Wood, who lived in Middletown, this infamy, for the inhabitants generally seem to have regarded the abortion with becoming disgust. Wood is represented as a proud, headstrong, power-loving man, too good in his own estimation probably, but really too bad to be tolerated in the Christian Church, of which he was originally a member. Being cast out of the church, the devil took him up, and set him to work making a system of religion more to his taste than Christianity. Wood set up for a prophet, drew around him followers as wicked as himself and weak enough to be deluded by his pretensions, and gradually involved the essential elements of Mormonism, which Joe Smith got hold of, and tried to dignify as a new revelation to himself. Identified with this new delusion was a considerable amount of downright knavery.

For a while Wood ruled his dupes by his prophetical pretensions. One Winchell, an expert counterfeiter, and fugitive from justice, ruled Wood and made all his disciples and others contribute to his benefit. He was particularly strong in the money-finding, witch-hazel line, and set people to digging in various directions for hid treasure, which they never found, though Winchell got well paid for his knavery. Joe Smith was of Wood and Winchell's disciples, and with them learned the trade of his masters so well that he was ultimately able to set up for himself, and to secure for himself the signal infamy of being the father of Mormonism, though really Wood was its discoverer and inventor.

A HUNDRED YEARS IN PRISON.

A certain housebraker was condemned, in the latter portion of the last century, in France, and under peculiar circumstances, to a hundred years in the galleys; and, strange to relate, this man recently made his appearance in his own native province, at the advanced age of 120 years, he being about twenty years of age when the sentence which condemned him to such a dreadful punishment was passed. It is difficult to conceive what the feeling must have been with which he returned, as soon as emancipated from the shackles which had enthralled him for a century, to breathe once more the cherished air of the scene of his infancy. Bourg, in the department of his native home, but time had so changed the aspect of the whole that he recognized it only by the Church of Bron, which had undergone no alteration. He triumphed over laws, bondage, man, time, everything. Not a relation had he left. Not a single being could he hail in acquaintance, yet he was not without experiencing the homage and the respect the French pay old age. For himself he had forgotten everything connected with his early youth; even all recollection of the crime for which he had suffered was lost, or, if at all remembered, it was a dreary vision, confounded with a thousand other dreary visions of days long gone by, His family and connections, for several generations, all dead, himself a living proof of the clemency of Heaven, and the severity of man regreting, perhaps, the very irons which had been familiar to him, and half wishing himself again among the wretched and suffering beings with whom his fate had been so long associated. Well might he be called the patriarch of Burgulars.

An ardent young couple called upon a Chicago minister the other evening and were made one. Half an hour afterwards a Chicago banker rushed into the minister's house, learned the facts, and went away very red in the face because his daughter had married "that fellow." Half an hour later still a Chicago broker rushed into the minister's house, learned the facts, and went away very red in the face, because his son had married "that girl."

FUNNY SCENE IN A COURT.

The Judge of one of the New Orleans municipal courts sat gloom and grand on his bench of ermine. The prisoner occupied the dock, apparently meek and downcast.—She had a merry twinkle in her eye, however, that promised mischief, and had the magnate but percieved it, he would have been careful in his questions:

'How many times are you coming up here?'

'What, yer honor?'

'How many times are you coming before me? This is the third time this present week.'

'Oh no, yer honor!'

'Didn't I see you here yesterday?'

'Why, no, yer honor, it was last night yer seed me, in the concert saloon. It was a bit of drink we had together, and yer honor did talk beautifully, wid your cunning ways and saucy jokes. Aye, yer honor's the man for the gals. The devil admire ye, but yees are smart.'

'Stop your tongue—you can go!'

'Thank you, yer honor!

The prisoner went out, the Judge blushed, and the audience roared.

VALUABLE RECIPES.—To remove freckles—cut them out with a razor and throw them away. They will never return.

To bring out a moustache—tie it to a strong cord, twenty feet long, to the end of which attach a heavy smoothing iron, and throw the latter from a fourth story window.

To produce a fair complexion—go to sea in a crazy old boat, and the first gale you get into, your face will become white.

To get rid of red hair—hold your head for a few minutes in a strong blaze of gas.

To preserve your eyes—put them in a bottle filled with alcohol.

To avoid corpulence—quit eating.

To conceal bad teeth—keep your mouth shut.

To keep out of debt— acquire the reputation of a rascal, and no one will trust you.

To gain time—steal a watch.

To keep your name up—write it frequently on the dome of the capitol, state house steeple, and other high places.

To keep from stuttering—don't talk.

To become a competent bookkeeper—borrow all the books you can and never return them.

To keep out of a fight—stay by yourself.

To keep your doors from being broken open by burglars—don't close them.

To "raise the stamps"—say a funny thing on the stage.

WORDS FOR BOYS TO REMEMBER.—Liberty is the right to do whatever you wish, without interfering with the the rights of others.

Save your money and you will find it one of the most useful friends.

Never give trouble to your father or mother.

Take care of your pennies and they will grow to dollars.

Intemperance is the cause of nearly all the trouble in this world; beware of strong drink.

The poorest boy, if he be industrious, honest and saving, may reach the highest honor in the land.

Never be cruel to a dumb animal; remember it has no power to tell how much it suffers.

GOOD RULES FOR ALL.—Profane swearing is abominable. Vulgar language is disgusting. Inquisitiveness is offensive. Tattling is mean. Telling lies is contemptible. Slandering is devilish. Ignorance is disgraceful, and laziness is shameful. Avoid all the vices, and aim at usefulness. This is in the road in which to become respectable. Walk in it. Never be ashamed of honest labor. Pride is a curse—a hateful vice. Never act the hypocrite. Keep good company. Speak the truth at all times. Never be discouraged, but persevere and mountains will become mole-hills.

IN a certain family, a pair of twins made their appearance, and were shown to their little sister of four years. It happened that whenever their cat of the household had kittens, the prettiest was saved and the rest were drowned. When the twins were shown the child by their happy father, she looked at them earnestly, and at length putting her finger tip on the cheek of one of them, looked up with all the seriousness possible, and said: "Papa, I think we'll save this one."

Somebody says editors are poor, whereupon an exchange remarks: "Humbug! Here we are, editor of a country newspaper, fairly rolling in wealth. We have a good office, a paste-pot, a double-barrelled gun, two suits of clothes, three kittens, a Newfoundland pup, two gold watches, thirteen day and two night shirts, carpet on our floors, a pretty wife, one corner lot, have ninety cents in cash, are out of debt, and have no rich relatives. If we are not wealthy, it is a pity."

THE VALUE OF LIFE.—The mere lapse of years is not life. Knowledge, truth, love, beauty, goodness, faith, alone can give vitality to the mechanism of existence.

A man's wife is his best lawyer, his best counsel, his best judge, his best adviser, and also the cheapest and most reasonable.

A man who gives his children habits of industry, provides for them better than by giving them a fortune.

A clergyman, observing a poor man by the road breaking stones, and kneeling to get at his work better, made the remark, "Ah! John, I wish I could break the stony hearts of my hearers as easily as you are breaking these stones."—"Perhaps, master, you do not work on your knees," was the reply.

The Bedford Gazette.

Friday Morning, December 4, 1868.

THE GAZETTE.

What earthly use is there in display, noise, crowds, "fuss and feathers," if the reason of men is not convinced thereby? We address this question to intelligent men in every election district in this county, with the observation that if one half the money that is usually spent in the heat of political campaigns, were raised now and applied to the payment of subscription to good Democratic journals to be placed in the hands of intelligent and reflecting "Republicans," there would be much more favorable results at the polls. The "Radicals" all over the country have for years pursued the plan of paying for their papers to be sent to Democrats. This has been a powerful weapon in their hands. Will Democrats take the hint? Cannot some of our friends in each school district club together and furnish wholesome political reading to their "Republican" neighbors? Never mind the scalawags who have no minds of their own or who are "catch votes." Direct your attention to the intelligent and thinking men among your political opponents. Have your county paper sent them regularly and begin sending it as soon as possible. Do not wait until they have committed themselves, in their own minds, to the policy or candidates of their party. Now is the accepted time.

Next year there will be an election of great importance to the people of the State, and especially to the people of this county. A Governor and Judge of the Supreme Court, a State Senator and two members of the Legislature, a Prothonotary, Sheriff, Treasurer, Commissioner, etc., are to be elected. Of course we shall have lots of candidates for the county nominations. Will these gentlemen, for once, forego a little of the bitter personal electioneering which has so often injured the party, and strive, in generous emulation with each other, to do what they can for a common cause? Will they turn in and help us circulate the GAZETTE, so that, if nominated, they may the more easily be elected? We shall see.

TROUBLE IN THE RADICAL RANKS.

The mutations of parties are strange indeed. The ups and downs of politicians are not less wonderful. Nine years ago, the so-called "Republican" party was but a weak and sickly baby, mewling and puling in the arms of its nurse, W. H. Seward. Like the toad that fills itself with vapor and expands to twice its natural size, this political suckling drank in the fumes of anti-slavery agitation and was soon puffed up into a full-blown and overgrown existence. Then came a diet of human flesh and blood, upon which the appetite of the party was glutted and upon which it grew fat and strong. But when the people had made an end of sacrificing to the god of war, the party which had subsisted upon what the war produced, began to weaken and decay. Even its faithful nurse gave it up. Soon, however, its dried up veins were filled with new blood, drawn from the victims of a riot gotten up specially to serve this purpose. Again it became vigorous and mighty. Like all convalescents, it grew fearfully voracious and threatened to devour every thing that stood in its path. It soon overloaded its stomach with a big "reconstruction" dinner and the year 1867 found it very low and feeble.—Only one remedy remained, and that was to use the golden pills of the bondholders and permit a butcher who was something of a horse-doctor to administer them. The physic barely saved the life of the party, and it is even now questionable whether a rupture between the physician and his patient will not yet end in death to the latter.

Dropping the metaphor, it seems quite probable that the bond question is about to cause a serious quarrel in the Radical party. Gen. Butler clings to his position with great pertinacity, and is fiercely antagonized by Greeley and most of the eastern Radicals. The western men generally said with Butler. Grant's cabinet, in all probability, will be divided on this question. As this is an issue that cannot be postponed, or evaded, we shall, doubtless, see lively times in Congress very soon. There can be but one common ground upon which all the factions of the Radical party can stand, so far as this issue is concerned, and that is a consolidation of the public debt. But if they do unite upon this basis, they will be driven from power, because the people will then be able to perceive that it is the policy of Radicalism to fasten the debt upon the country without any design or hope of eventual cancellation.

Hence, in the height of their success, in the very flush of victory, the Radicals stand upon the verge of defeat.—The sword of Damocles is suspended above their heads and the hair that detains the sharp and fatal blow is brittle a glass. Will it not be snapped ere four years more of the history of the party shall be written?

CONVICTED.—Henry Bear a resident of St. Clair Township, was last week convicted of fraudulent voting and sentenced to three months imprisonment in the county jail and a fine of fifty dollars. His offence was voting twice, once in Napier township and afterward in St. Clair. He seems to have been intoxicated and made the tool of certain over zealous copperheads, but it didn't save Seymour nor Kimmell either. We hope when the real offenders and responsible parties in the case are found that they may get the full benefit of the law. There is no greater danger threatening our free institutions to day than the frauds perpetrated at the ballot box, and wherever the instigators of such crimes are found they should be more severely punished than their ignorant dupes. Quite a number of fraudulent copperhead votes were polled at the last election and we hope every one of the offenders may be made to feel the rigors of the law.—Bedford Inquirer.

As several persons are under bond to appear in the courts to answer the charge of procuring the above-named Bear to vote fraudulently, we had not intended to print anything upon the subject. But the foregoing requires a few words of explanation.

The Inquirer says that Bear was "intoxicated" at the time he duplicated his vote. We have no doubt of it. Drunken men are said to "see double," and naturally are inclined to vote double.

Bear, however, was not "convicted." He plead guilty. He did this contrary to the advice of his counsel, and as it is generally believed, at the instance of one of the counsel for the Commonwealth, who asked the court to make the sentence as light as possible. Why this sudden affection of the prosecuting counsel for this self-confessed criminal Bear? Why this anxiety of the counsel, (the first letters of whose name are John Cessna,) to have this horrid transgressor of the law so lightly punished? "Thereby hangs a tale."

Bear had turned State's evidence! He had made information against Burton Edsall and Adam Earnest, who, he alleges, procured him to go to St. Clair tp., to vote, after he had already voted in Napier. As he had, under the advice of Radical politicians, agreed to swear these parties into trouble, he was no longer a "tool of over zealous copperheads," but, if a tool of anybody, that of malignant and vindictive Radicals. Of course, from that time forward he was all right with the "trooly loil," and deserved only "the lightest punishment the court can inflict."

But if this man was drunk when he committed the fraud which he has confessed, how can he swear, with any degree of accuracy, as to what occurred between him and Edsall or Earnest?—Is such a man's evidence to destroy the good name of a reputable citizen? Is such a man the witness upon whom the great apostle of Temperance, John Cessna, relies for evidence to destroy the good name of his neighbors?

We fully agree with the Inquirer that Bear's duplicated vote did not "save Kimmell or Seymour." It was not at all calculated to serve so good a purpose. It amounted to just two votes for Cessna and Grant, as can easily be proved. There is not a well-posted Democrat in St. Clair tp., who does not know that Bear voted the Radical ticket. He may have been intoxicated, as the Inquirer says, and may not have known what he was doing, but he did that very thing, nevertheless. We hope, however, that our Radical friends will not get all their "repeaters" to come forward and plead guilty, as Bear has done, for in that case the jail would have to be enlarged and an additional tax laid to pay for the boarding of such gentry. We are, therefore, inclined to believe that the Inquirer is only joking when it hopes that "every one of the offenders may be made to bear the rigors of the law." We would, however, advise our Democratic friends throughout the county to report some of the most flagrant cases of fraudulent voting, to the chairman of the County Committee, J. W. Dickerson, Esq., so that an example may be made in behalf of justice and the purity of the ballot-box. Look them up, friends, and let justice, not vengeance, have its full and unimpeded sway.

STRONGER!

After the election of 1864 the Democrats had the Governor of but a single State in the Union, Delaware. Bramlette, of Kentucky, was not then a Democrat, having been elected by what was called the "Union" party. After the election of 1868, we have the Governors of Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky and California. We have also recovered the state of Oregon, which cast its vote for Seymour, and the states of Georgia and Louisiana, by immense majorities. These three states will have Democratic Governors in another year, which will give us the control of the executive power in ten states. This shows the recuperative energy of the Democracy. Next year we shall defeat Geary, which will bring Pennsylvania once more into line. We are growing stronger. Courage, Democrats! Forward in the good cause! Now is the time for effective work. Your neighbors' heads are cool at present. Talk with them.

Some eager sight-seers or office-hunters are already engaging rooms in Washington for inauguration week.

CANT STAND GEARY.

There is growing up in the Radical party, quite a spirited opposition to the re-nomination of Gov. Geary. We find the following in a recent number of Fitzgerald's Philadelphia City Item, a Radical Journal of high standing:

"Poor Geary is traveling and begging day and night to secure a re-nomination. He coaxes, implores, promises, threatens, whines and cries. Never before has such a spectacle been seen in this State. Mr. W. W. Ketchum and Gen. Harry White, of Indiana, are his competitors—both abler and better men, and neither of them liars."

That is pretty plain talk. Brother Radicals should not thus wash each other's dirty linen in public. Let us have peace!

PERIODICALS.

THE DAILY MORNING PATRIOT.—This is the largest morning daily published in central Pennsylvania. It is decidedly the best news journal that comes to our office. It receives not only the Associated Press despatches, but also special reports from all parts of the country. The latest foreign news, by the Atlantic cable, is regularly reported for its columns. The markets are made a specialty, and we hazard nothing in saying that its reports of the cattle markets of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburg and Chicago, are fuller than those of any other daily paper. It is served here by carrier at 75 cents per month, and sent to subscribers by mail at $7.00 per annum. The carrier serves the PATRIOT printed in the morning at noon of the same day. No other daily paper reaches here on the day upon which it is printed; hence the news of the PATRIOT is always a day later to subscribers here than that of other dailies.

THE OLD GUARD, FOR 1869.—The Old Guard is about to enter upon its Seventh Volume, with a redoubled zeal in the cause of American liberty and American civilization. The field for such a Magazine is wider now than ever before. Political incompetency, and treachery to the fundamental principles of our government, on the part of journals professing to be Democratic, call now for an unsparing pen on the side of truth and justice. No quarter shall be given, no mercy shown to monstrous political crimes whose flood-gates are now hoisted for another four years.

Several literary novelties will be presented in this new volume, among which will be a series of original sketches of Indian life and character, by William Gilmore Simms, the ablest of all the surviving representatives of the best and brightest period of American literature. THE LADY'S FRIEND.—We have received the December number of this excellent ladies' magazine—the "Queen of the Monthlies"—and it of itself, is worth a years subscription. The contents are all that any one could desire, and we do not hesitate to say that it is truly "the ladies' friend." The proprietors are determined not to be surpassed by any similar magazine, the coming year, either in America or Europe. Now is the time to subscribe. The Louisiana Election.

NEW ORLEANS, November 26.—The returns telegraphed some days ago as the official vote of the State was the vote returned to the office of the Secretary of State. Yesterday the Governor, Secretary of State, and the Judge of the Second Judicial District examined the returns, and declared the result of the election. They threw out the entire vote of the parishes of Avoyelles, West Feliciana, Franklin, Jackson, Jefferson, Orleans, St. Bernard, Sabine, St. John the Baptist, St. Martin, Terrebonne, and Washington, for informality in the manner of making the returns, and decided that no legal returns have been received from those parishes, making the entire vote for Grant, as returned by them, 27,911, and for Seymour 41,358. Notwithstanding the rejection of the vote of those parishes, the Democratic Congressmen are declared elected from all but the Second District. In the latter district only the parishes of Lafourche, St. Charles, and St. James are counted, giving the certificate to Sheldon for the full term, and to Manard (negro) for Mann's unexpired term. Hunt's majority in the Second District for both terms is nearly 10,000. In the First District St Martin's majority over Sypher is reduced by the rejection from 9,400 to 653. The Republican this evening says there is some ambiguity in the law as to who the returning officers for the parish of Orleans are. The report of the proceedings of the Governor's Committee shows some diversity of opinion as to the construction of the law.

Judge Chase Does Away with the Iron-Clad Oath.

Chief Justice Chase, in the Supreme Court, at Richmond, decided that the iron-clad oath should not be administered to the grand jurymen, as it rather hindered than furthered the ends of justice. A new grand jury was then summoned on this decision, and will only take the oath to support the Constitution of the United States.

This decision is eminently wise and proper. Under the iron-clad oath very few of the more intelligent white men of the South could be sworn as jurors. Chief Justice Chase has acted wisely in doing away with it, and all honest and sensible men will heartily approve of what he has done.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Washington, D. C., November 26.—A despatch was received at Police Headquarters at half-past three this afternoon from opposite Lincoln Barracks, requesting all extra men to be sent thither; that from 75 to 100 negroes were engaged in fighting. Everything quiet at 9 o'clock. No arrests reported. One negro killed. Officer McSweeney badly beaten about head and neck and Officer Langley also slightly injured; no whites engaged in the affray excepting officers engaged quelling disturbance. It originated in a procession on the way to lay the corner stone of a church.

St. Louis, November 27.—A man named Johnson, recently arrested in Cincinnati, has been brought here, suspected of having been a party to the robbery of Mr. Cross, a messenger of Adams Express, who was robbed of seven thousand dollars. Johnson was engaged in a similar robbery of a messenger of the United States Express, three years ago, and sent to the penitentiary for it, and pardoned before his time expired. It is believed that the right man has been captured.

Albany, November 26.—Elisha B. Foro, the husband of the woman who was murdered at West Davenport, Delaware County, on Tuesday morning, as supposed by a burglar, has been held by a unanimous verdict of the coroner's jury to answer the charge of murder. There were two severe fractures on the skull of the victim, besides pistol wounds. An examination of the prisoner will commence today.

It is rumored that John Slidell intends to make an effort to recover his property in New Orleans, and for this purpose has executed a power of attorney to two New Orleans gentlemen. This was acknowledged before General Dix, American Minister in Paris, by John Slidell and his daughter, and in Frankfort by his son, before the United States Consul there. Young Slidell is a clerk in Erlanger's bank.

The most sensible election bet yet recorded was that between a gentleman and lady in New Albany, Indiana. In case of Grant's election he agreed to marry her, and in case of Seymour's success she was to marry him. At last accounts the parties were very well satisfied with the manner in which the wager had been decided.

The Charleston Courier of the 14th ult., states that on the previous day, a lady who was passing down Wentworth street, met on her way two colored girls who rudely pushed against her, and when remonstrated with, was told by them that she should have taken the outside, and ought to have known better since the election was over. A trivial matter, but an exemplification of the old proverb—"Coming events cast their shadows before."

Some ten miles north of Salt Lake City is a boiling sulpher Spring. It gushes out in a great volume at the foot of a limestone rock, from an aperture as large as a hogshead, and a stream that would fill a tube a foot square. The water is very strong, and you can perceive its odor a long time before you reach the spring. It is boiling hot, and strolling Mormons often cook eggs in it.

Two prisoners who recently escaped from an Illinois jail, afford a remarkable instance of thoughtful consideration in a moment of success. After having gagged and bound the jailor and rolled him into their cell, they kindly put a pillow under his head, and spread a blanket over him, and told him to ring the bell if he wanted anything.

Foreign capital, managed by men from New York and Boston, now owns four-fifths of the lumber land in the State of Pennsylvania. These men are organized in strong and irresistible monopolies, and can afford to hold their products until the necessities of the people compel them to buy. In the meantime, labor in the lumber region is no better paid than it ever was.

ST. LOUIS, MO., November 26.—A despatch from Denver says the city has been infested lately with desperate characters, who have been driven from the towns on the Pacific Railroad by vigilant committees.

General Augur has received the particulars of the signing of the treaty by Red Cloud and his party. They at first hesitated to do it, for fear that they might be involved in trouble with those Indians who escaped through the lines to the north; but finally signed, saying, however, that while they would live up to the treaty as long as the white man did, it might be difficult for him to control the young braves. He saw no necessity for going on the reservation. He had not learned to farm, and there were plenty of buffalo on Powder River. He intended to spend the winter among them, and would like to come in to trade; but declared that should any persons come into their country, in violation of the treaty, he would confiscate their property. The party remained several days, and received a number of presents and sufficient rations to carry them back to Powder River.

SOME of our readers may fear that by placing their money in the hands of these Life Insurance companies they will be swindled. A dollar is a dollar, and oftentimes represents hard work, and it is not pleasant to have it stolen by sharpers. Well, in the first place, we have no remembrance of any Life Insurance company ever failing. If there were such a danger it certainly cannot be with a company managed by such men as Jay Cooke, with a paid-up capital of a million dollars, and managed by men of national reputation. This we have in the National Life Insurance Company, recently organized under an act of Congress. Life Insurance is reduced to a science, and the ripest results of that science are embraced in this new company. The directors have adopted the simplest and safest plan. They mean to conduct the business legitimately, to insure at the lowest rates, and to adopt every method of doing the greatest good to its patrons cosistent with the rules of a sound insurance business.—The National Life Insurance Company, as it stands to-day, is one of the best and safest in the country.

How often do you hear the complaint from mother and father that their son or daughter is not well; that they have no appetite; that they feel languid; that their head aches; that they are growing thin and feeble, and that they have no life or energy left. That they are low-spirited, and perfectly incapacitated to participate in any pleasures, to perform any mental or physical duty. And the question is often asked, what shall I do for them? or, what shall I give them? Our answer is, let them try Plantation Bitters moderately three times a day, and our word for it they will recover.

NATURE'S GREAT RESTORER.

SCHEETZ'S CELEBRATED
BITTER CORDIAL

This medical preparation is now offered to the public as a reliable substitute for the many worthless compounds which now flood the market. It is purely vegetable, composed of various herbs, gathered from the great storehouse of nature, and selected with the utmost care. It is not recommended as a CURE ALL, but by its direct and salutary influence upon the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Lungs, Stomach and Bowels, it acts both as a preventive and cure for many of the diseases to which those organs are subject. It is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt and speedy remedy for DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, BOWEL COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, LOWNESS OF SPIRITS, FAINTINGS, SICK-HEADACHE, &c. For Chills and Fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes.

THE PRIDE OF THE FAMILY is the accomplished daughter. Every lady must have knowledge and refinement Central Pennsylvania has a just pride in the Hollidaysburg Seminary.

BANKRUPTCY.—Unless applications for the benefit of the bankrupt law are made before January 1st, 1869, they will not be entertained unless fifty per cent. of debts can be paid by the bankrupt.

ADJOURNED COURT.—An adjourned court is in session this week, Judge Rowe presiding. There is a fair attendance, and judging from the amount of business on hand, the court will last all week. We will give the proceedings in full next week.

NEW SCHOOL HOUSES.—On last Saturday the Directors of Bedford tp., let two new school houses, one at Brush Run and the other at Tomlinson's. Mr. Abner Smouse was awarded the contract for both at $677 a piece. A few others are badly needed in this township which the Directors propose erecting as soon as practicable.

WHOSE FAULT?—If Seymour and Blair had been elected, the tightness in the money market, the great decline in grain, the high price of coal, and the general unsteadiness of the whole country, would have been charged to that event. The good times, the peace and quiet promised us by their defeat is slow coming. Have you realized it yet, ye votaries of "Peace" and "No Policy?"

BABIES AND PORK.—The Somerset Democrat man boasts of more handsome babies in that place than can be found in any other place in the world. This we consider very baby-ish in him. We could beat him two to one if we felt inclined to hawk our dear little beauties about in the newspapers. We are far too modest for that. But we can boast in another direction. Without any desire to draw a disparaging comparison, we will boast that we can trot out the prettiest and largest porkers that can be found in a single pen anywhere. Our neighbor can verify this statement. So between the "squallers" and the "squeelers" we consider ourselves ahead. We trust this will not be considered hog-ish.

KLU KLUX KLAN.—What has become of the horrible Klu Klux Klan outrages with which the Radical papers teemed before the election? Then you could not pick up one of these "peace" papers without a dozen or more bloody murders staring you in the face. Now all is changed. Even the Bedford Inquirer makes no attempt to frighten its timid readers with the terrible deeds perpetrated by the above fancied sanguinary organization. Why is this? Simply because those horrible outrages only existed in the disordered brain of some carpet-bag scalawags in the South, and were hawked about in the political market of the North to sway the minds of the people in favor of the Radical candidates. Having served their purpose, they are heard of no more. Shame on a party who must resort to such means to carry their ends!

CAT COUNTERING CANINE.—Listlessly looking for lively locals in the melow morn of last Thursday, we caught a cat incident, and detected a dog item as transpiring on Juliana street, in the part of it lying between the magnificent building in course of erection and the Court House. A splendid specimen of the feline fellows, known in the neighborhood as Thomas Cat, while leisurely leaping across the elevated highway, had his attention arrested by an angry approach on his left flank of an important individual of the canine crew, designated in dogology as Dot. Then Thomas of the first part, catching cat courage, hemmed and halted—somewhat shortened spine, and elevated his back just in the nick of time to receive the cunningly contrived charge of the enemy. Dot had the advantage of Thomas in size, but in ability was immensely his inferior. Suddenly sweeping down upon our rat-router with a rush that convinced us he did know his man—for the majestic move with which Thomas struck for the eye, with the terrific giveup ky-yi! barked out on autumn air as he bounded back a feet or more from Thomas, induced us to entertain the belief that somebody's "dorg" was somewhat seriously scratched—which was strengthened by seeing the aforesaid Dot double-quicking it home with a howl which indicated that he was far from being a contented cur. Since then, although cat has the certificate, Dot contests the combat—considerable counsel are concerned and the entire cat controversy will be doggedly decided by a committee of Congress. The services of a distinguished member of the Shovers' Valley Colony have been secured, which said member is willing to take an iron-cladoath that the aforesaid Dot was not there at all, upon his honor as a member of the Colony aforesaid. What effect this will have upon the committee will be chronicled for the benefit of our readers in due time. Hope we shall not soon be called upon to record another such cat-astrophe with such dog-ged dogmatical diction.

HE only is worthy of esteem that knows what is just and honest, and dares to do it; that is master of his own passions, and scorns to be a slave to another's. Such a one merits more respect than those gay things who owe all their greatness and reputation to their rentals and revenues.—Dr. Fuller,

REAL ESTATE SALES.—The following sales of real estate have come to our notice since our last issue:

Mr. Suter of Napier township sold the Emmett property to Judge Snively, of Schellsburg, for 2,500.

William Colvin sold house and lot in Schellsburg to Judge Snively, for $850.

Lewis Ling, of Bedford township, sold the Colfelt property to John H. Shaffer, of Snake Spring, for $9,300.

Ex-Sheriff Alsip sold the house and half lot lately purchased from the heirs of Mrs. Jane Kean, to Miss Byerly, for $900. Mrs. Catharine Miller sold at public sale, the adjoining half lot to same.

Miss Margaret C. Fetterly sold the house and lot on the corner of Pitt and Bedford streets, to Judge Snively and Mrs. Martha J. Fisher, for $2,300.

We would be very much obliged to our friends in the several districts of the county if they would advise us of the changes of real estate as they occur. We desire to keep our readers "posted" on this subject.

AMONGST Atlantic Cables, steam navigations and those progressions of science and art that mark the nineteenth centuary, not the least useful, are Dr. Ayer's medicines. They take rank among the benefactions of mankind, from the rapidity and certainty with which they cure. Try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral on a cough and it is gone. What skin diseases or impurities of the blood withstand Ayrer's Sarsaparilla? Ayer's Pills are the perfection of a purgative—every family should have them as almost every family does. Not a trifle to be thankful for are good medicines and the knowledge how to use them for protection from disease. These Dr. Ayer's preparations and publications furnish, and we do not hesitate to commend them.—St. Louis Leader.

The American Organs manufactured by S. D. & H. W. Smith, of Boston, Mass., are remarkably good and effective instruments. Their quality of tone is peculiar and most admirable, they have great power when played full, and possess a swell apparatus of more than ordinary excellence, by means of which fine crescendo or diminuendo is obtained, and they also respond instantly to the touch. Choir leaders, societies, or musical students, who wish to procure something very satisfactory in the way of reed Organs will certainly do well to examine these superb instruments.—Providence Journal.

THE GREAT

AMERICAN COMBINATION

Button Hole Overseaming

AND

SEWING MACHINE.

Its Wonderful Popularity Conclusive Proof of its Great Merit.

The increase in the demand for this valuable machine has been TEN FOLD during the last seven months of its first year before the public.

This grand and surprising success is unprecedented in the history of sewing-machines, and we feel fully warranted in claiming that

IT HAS NO EQUAL.

BEING ABSOLUTELY THE BEST

FAMILY MACHINE

IN THE WORLD,

And Intrinsically the Cheapest.

It is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement,) making both the Shuttle or Lock-stitch, and the Overseaming and Button-hole stitch, with equal facility and perfection. It executes in the very best manner every variety of sewing, such as Hemming, Felling, Cording, Tucking, Stitching, Braiding and Quilting, Gathering and sewing on, (done at the same time,) and in addition, Overseams, Embroiders on the edge, and makes beautiful Button and Eyelet-holes in all fabrics.

Every Machine is warranted by the Company, or its Agents, to give entire satisfaction.

OUR NEW FAMILY
SEWING MACHINE.

The superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either Family use or Manufacturing purposes, are so well established and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellences is no longer considered necessary.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor, or expense, is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the Best Sewing Machine in existence. The machine in question is Simple, Compact, Durable and Beautiful. It is quiet, light running, and never before attempted upon a single Machine,—using either SILK, TWIST, LINEN OR COTTON THREAD, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

CAPABLE OF PERFORMING A RANGE AND VARIETY OF WORK

New designs of the Unique, Useful, and Popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company, have been prepared for enclosing the new Machine.

A faint idea, however, can at best be conveyed through the medium of a (necessarily) limited advertisement; and we therefore urge every person in quest of a Sewing Machine, by all means to examine and test, if they can possibly do so, all the leading rival Machines before making a purchase. A selection can then be made understandingly. Branches or agencies for supplying the "Singer" Machines will be found in nearly every city and town throughout the civilized world, where Machines will be cheerfully exhibited, and any information promptly furnished. Or communications may be addressed to MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED. Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriages, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY and FITS, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
THE GREAT DESIDERATUM OF THE AGE.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one Medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, LISTLESSNESS, LANGUOR and LOSS of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For LIVER COMPLAINT and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or Green SICKNESS, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For DYSENTERY or DIARRHŒA, but one mild dose is generally required.

For RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK and LOINS, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For SUPPRESSION a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length cure, by the use of this Sarsaparilla: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Miscellaneous.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometime subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.
